NATIONALLY: First and foremost, Bob always suggests working with your local Benefit Auctioneer. However, if you're not having any luck and are now looking beyond your local area for an incredibly successful, dedicated and professional Benefit Auctioneer, be sure to give Bob a call. He is one of only a rare few auctioneers across the entire United States working exclusively with charitable organizations. He'll make you feel comfortable, share his 22 years of expertise with you and take your event to a new level of excitement and success - without breaking your bank!

Retired Wyoming State Senator Alan Simpson said of Bob's talents: "I turned to Cheney and said, this guy can float a battleship on a raindrop!"
